ONE SIDE OF A STORY

Merchants Talk of the Sidewalk Ordinance.

THEY ARE AFTER THE LOAFERS

Complaints Made That Pavements Are Cleared Near the Curbstone, but Crowds of Men Are Permitted to Hide Window Displays—A Story of Peanut Shells and Chewing Tobacco.

Mayor Gilbert and the police have won out in their battle against the boxes, and the photographer has moved away his case, but there are mutterings among the merchants, and there may be another chapter added to the story before this is written.

The dissatisfaction began soon after Officer Supplee gave the first order that resulted in the ordinance being enforced, but it did not gather strength until the business men began to look about them. A hasty glance only left the impression that they were not a consideration, but a close examination showed that there was a rule that did not work both ways. They were ordered to clear the streets of boxes, and they did it. They asked the police to clear the sidewalk of loafers, but to the present time they say there is no perceptible decrease in the number of men who make entrance to their stores a difficult matter, and drive away custom, because ladies will not pass through the crowds. One prominent merchant, who would be among the last men in the city to move in an unjust cause, told their side of the story to the NEWS REVIEW last night, when he said:

"I don't want to misjudge any part of the city government, and I believe that laws were made to be enforced, but I also believe that there is justice in this town, and the business men are not getting their share of it. When the police informed me that the sidewalk ordinance would be enforced, I didn't object, because I believed that laws were made to be respected, and that all concerns in town would be placed on the same basis. Not long afterward I was asked to move a small box that was on the edge of the pavement. I moved the box, but it was a nice night, and there were a great many people on the street. A row of men were standing in front of my show windows, and I thought that if the officer wanted the street clear he would be glad for the opportunity to clear those men away by ordering them to move on. But it seems that he was not. I asked him to order the men away, and he replied that he would, and that was the last heard of it. If the men were ordered away from in front of the windows, they did not have the slightest respect for the law, as not one of them moved. Not a man stirred except to shift his weight from one foot to the other, and they stayed there until late that night. Of course that officer knew I would obey the law when he ordered me to move that box, but goodness knows what he thought when he promised me to move the men. Those men were standing on the part of the pavement given to me by the council, on which I have the right to display my merchandise, and there they stayed either without a word from the policeman or in defiance to what he had told them. If you suppose that the first is correct the officer neglected his duty, and if the second is right he has not the respect to enforce obedience, and part of this injustice is the way trade is driven away from the stores. Ladies will not pass through a crowd of tobacco spitting men if they can avoid it. Then they object to the profanity heard in these crowds. It is not right that these things should be endured any more than it is right to leave boxes on the pavement when the law says that they shall be removed. Another annoyance is the amount of cleaning we have to do after every night the loafers gather. Peanut shells are piled everywhere and the tobacco spit spatters everything. I have seen mornings where there would be near a half bushel of shells in the door way, and enough dried up tobacco buds laying around to disgust anyone. When the police end this nuisance I will think that there is justice in the administration of the law. When they want support for any movement the first people they hunt up are the merchants and usually get what they want, and whenever they want to enforce an ordinance the first people to suffer are the merchants."

The sentiment of the business man was the sentiment of several others who were seen. They wanted to comply with the law, but thought they should have some protection in return. As they put it there was an unjust discrimination which might be simply an oversight on the part of the authorities or a matter of neglect. They would be more than willing to keep their boxes off the streets if the police will keep the loafers from their windows.

That Box Is Safe.

There is only one man in town who appreciates a joke more than Officer Wyman, and that man is Charley Murphy. Yesterday evening he was opening a box of goods when the officer passed, and a few words about the sidewalk ordinance were playfully passed, when with a confidential air Mr. Murphy said:

"John, there's a box up there on the corner that you have neglected, and I believe if you move one you should move all."

"Where is it?" said the officer, alive in an instant to the necessity of doing his duty.

"It's the mail box at Barnes' corner," replied Charley, and the small crowd laughed while the officer joined in the chorus.

Fox Almost Felt.

George Fox, residing on Ravine street, made a discovery yesterday that caused him no end of annoyance. In passing through his back yard he noticed a spot in the garden where the ground seemed to be shaking, and going near he carefully put out one foot. Pressing a little he was surprised to see the ground sink, and leave a hole several feet in diameter. It was four feet deep and half filled with water. As no boards held the earth Fox was at a loss to know what kept it from falling, and cannot fathom why the hole is there.

Affects City Hall.

When the damage cases against the city were being heard in court the other day it appeared that any ruling which had for its object the removal of the patrol station would also permit the taking away of city hall should the people ever object to its being there. The land was never given for any purpose except that designated in the deed, which has no word about buildings. If this is shown in court a ground is given upon which the claimants hope to recover damages.

They Got the Book.

Not long ago an enterprising firm in Elmyra, N. Y., advertised all over the country that they would for 50 cents send a book that every man should read. The answers came pouring in upon them, and a whole force of clerks were wrapping and mailing cheap testaments, and sending them to people all over the country. Among those who made the purchase were some East Liverpool people who, possibly, had not seen the inside of a testament in months.

Williams Lost.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, March 28.—Six years ago Henry A. B. Williams brought suit against Salem because he had been injured by falling on a sidewalk of that place, and the common pleas court gave him $4,000 for the injury. The circuit court reversed the decision, and the supreme court sustained the last verdict. Yesterday Clerk King was officially notified of the turn the matter had taken.

Narrow Escape.

Will Moore, the clever and courteous gentleman in charge of the elevator at the First National bank building, had a narrow escape this morning when igniting gas, a flash singeing his eyebrows and rendering the flesh unpleasantly sore. Mr. Moore does not believe his sight has been impaired, but he desires no more such close calls.

Withdrew the Charge.

Motorman Johnson, who placed a charge in the court of Squire Rose against Edward Doran, withdrew the complaint today, and paid the costs. He believed that he was doing the right thing because the defendant did not pay for a package, but Superintendent Andrews ruled otherwise.

In Heavy Marching Order.

Captain Supplee today received notice from the colonel of the Eighth to the effect that Company E would be inspected next Monday evening in heavy marching order. The inspecting officer's name is not known, but he will be from headquarters at Columbus.

Early in May.

LISBON, March 28.—Judge Billingsley has decided to devote several weeks in the early part of the May term of court to East Liverpool and the southern part of the county, and a big assignment will be made.

THE BLUFF DIDN'T GO

Saloonist and Lawyer Try to Bulldoze a Witness.

OFFICER WYMAN CALLS A TURN

And Addresses Walter B. Hill In No Complimentary Terms—Wouldn't See Any Witness Frightened While He Is Present—Interesting Culmination of the Meador Liquor Case—A Stiff Fine.

The case of the city versus H. Meador grew more interesting as it neared a finish at city hall yesterday afternoon, and it became evident that John Sant filled the requirements of his contract before paying him a cent. President Bert accompanied the committee, which is made up of Doctor Marshall, and Messrs. Burton and Williams. It is not known whether a special meeting will be called upon their return home or they will simply await the regular session before making a report.

The testimony of Thomas Jackson, who got the two half pints of whisky from Meador, was slightly mixed, but only on the point relating to the meeting with Officers Wyman and Supplee. The officers were sworn, and Officer Wyman testified that Jackson had told him Sunday afternoon that he could get liquor from Meador. Witness further stated that he had a conversation with Supplee, but Officer Supplee refused when questioned to tell what it was about. Several witnesses were introduced and testified as to who was in the Meador house on Sunday night, but none could positively swear that Jackson had not got the liquor. Mrs. Meador came about as near it as anybody, claiming, when put on the stand, that her husband had given her the key to the saloon shortly after dinner when he went out for a walk. Officer Supplee suggested that Meador might have had the whisky in his clothes at that time, as the witness said she kept the key until the following morning, but Mrs. Meador said she dressed her husband and put a clean handkerchief in his pocket, so she knew there was no bottle on his clothes. Two or three witnesses testified that Jackson had not been offered $25 to keep his mouth shut about the matter, when W. B. Hill, attorney for the defense, opened a brief argument by stating that Jackson lied, and that he had not testified as to what was in the two half pint bottles. Mayor Gilbert disputed his word. The mayor had no lawyer, but made a good prosecution throughout. To show that it was whisky, he and Officer Supplee brought in the bottles and both label and smell proved satisfactory. The arguments of the defense consisted almost wholly of the misstatements made by Jackson at different times. Mayor Gilbert said the evidence was convincing and he did not doubt that Jackson was telling the truth. Accordingly he would decide that Meador was guilty and should pay a fine of $25 and costs. After the trial was over Hill and Meador attempted to frighten Jackson by threatening to have him arrested for perjury. "You know you have lied on the stand," said Hill, while Meador chimed in also.

"And you know," reiterated Jackson "that I have gotten whisky at your place on Sunday before." This was an unexpected answer and as Officer Supplee remarked that "the grand jury would look after that," the defense weakened. The charge would be a serious one, or rather two of them, if really taken before the grand jury, as Jackson was not 21 years of age until the ninth of this month.

Hill and Meador were starting to scare Jackson on the perjury idea once more when Officer Wyman stepped up and ordered the talk stopped.

He said the case had been tried and disposed of and if they wanted to bring any charge to do so, but they could not expect to bulldoze a witness in his presence. He thought there was too much of that sort of business done in court today anyway, and said he cared not on which side the witness was, he would have no such nonsense.

The defense smiled a sickly smile and said they didn't mean it, but Officer Wyman was in earnest and desired it understood that he did not appreciate such chestnuts.

CHANGED THE NAME.

How a Wellsville Club Got the Scheller-Johnson Fight.

The Fishers club of Wellsville have agreed to have the fight between Scheller and Johnson take place in their presence.

The authorities of Wellsville said the battle should never take place in that town, they would not allow it, but the city solicitor looked into the law, and found that fighting under certain restrictions was not such a wicked thing as they had imagined.

If it could come off before an athletic club and under the patronage of such an organization it is not wicked. To meet this the Fisher club last night became the Wellsville Athletic association. Scheller is preparing for the battle, and Johnson is being trained by Charley Schell, of Beaver Falls, one of the best trainers in this part of the country. He has been in the ring on more than one occasion, and knows all the tricks of the professionals.

MEEHAN'S EAGLE EYE

Proves Tiresome to Several Train Jumpers.

JACOB BOTTERBERG TO ANSWER

As the Officer Is Weary of Warning Him, Albert Arb and Edward Heil Among the Victims—Gillespie and Niblock Plead Guilty—Police News.

When business grows dull in mayor's court Detective Meehan drops in and makes life weary for those who persist in jumping trains in this vicinity.

Yesterday afternoon he captured Edward Heil, a man who claimed to be from Southside, Pittsburg. Heil was enjoying himself on a freight train when Meehan took him in. He plead guilty but could not pay the fine of $5.00 imposed. He was released, and promises to return with the cash.

William Arb is a youth who said he was crossing the train when Meehan grabbed him. As a matter of fact, William rode quite a distance and had no intention of coming off his perch until he saw the officer. He was arrested about 11 o'clock this morning and wept copiously while going toward city hall. He was kept in jail until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon when his step-father appeared and he was given a hearing. He cried as if his heart would break, and promised to never again tackle the seductive freight car. He was fined $5.00 and released.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF Ohio.

want the news.

THE Democrats want a minority representation in council. What in the world would they do with it if they had it?

THE Democrats are hoping to win
in the coming election, but there are reasons for believing that the Democrats will be disappointed.

THE friends of Thomas B. Reed are discovering that he has only one platform, but to the present time they have refrained from telling us just what that is.

THE earnest yet quiet manner in which Judge Nash is conducting his campaign is not only making him friends but is bringing to his standard the men who are best calculated to strengthen his cause.

THE farmers' wives who have been buying new dresses and pretty bon-nets after the wool is sold, are counting on nothing this year. The price is too low, being even worse than a year ago. Yet Democracy claimed friendship for the farmers.

THE New York Tribune makes a timely and truthful remark when it says that if Wilson as postmaster general will put into active operation his ideas of economics he will be having the postage stamps printed in England, because the work can be done much cheaper there than in America.

WHEN the farmers of America learn that the exports of bread stuffs decreased in value to the amount of $45,- 000,000 during the seven months ending the first of the year, they will realize why there is no demand for wheat, and will not be long in discovering cause for the downward tendency of the price.

A WRITER in the April Forum declares that the last census shows an alarming decrease in the population of the country districts. He points out that of the 1,316 townships of Ohio the number of people was stationary in 32, there was a gain in 529, and 765 show a decrease.
He uses this as an argument to show that the small town must go, but it is to be hoped that the hard facts of the statistician are at fault in this instance.

NEXT MONDAY.

The Democrats and Prohibitionists are using every argument at their command to defeat the Republican ticket next Monday, and a hot contest
can be expected at the polls; yet there should be but one result. The Republicans who have administered the city government in the past have done well. They have made no serious mistakes, and have rushed forward every good and just law that could be made to work in the city's interests.

The members of Republican councils have been conservative, and no better demonstration of this can be found than in the men who leave the council chamber after the next meeting.
They have done their duty, stood by their constituents, and with what money they could command have done
as well as any officials ever occupying the same position. The candidates on the township ticket are the best that could be selected, and the presence of J. H. Harris for a place on the water works board insures success in that quarter. The Republican voters of the city have nominated their ticket and it is their duty to stand by
it. If there are any dissatisfied ones they should have made their presence felt at the primaries.

England Investigating a Spanish Outrage.

ENGLISHMAN SHOT BY SPANIARD.

A Sentinel at a Spanish Fort In Cuba
Shoots a Seaman Named Lowe—A Cuban Negro With Him Mortally Wounded.
Ambassador Pauncefote Talks.

BALTIMORE, March 28.—At 2 o'clock on the morning of March 19 Spanish sentinels murderedly shot and killed a seaman of the British steamship Laurestina and badly wounded a Cuban negro at St. Jago, Cuba. The British government is investigating the matter and complications between Great Britain and Spain may result. The Laurestina has arrived at this port from St. Jago and her officers denounce the shooting as a murder. They stated to your representative that the seaman was John Lowe, aged 35 years,
a resident of Leeds, England, who had shipped at Cardiff, Wales, on the night of March 18. The crew went ashore for a stroll and walked up from where the vessel was lying to the town of St.
Jago, a short distance away. The boatswain, Lowe and another seaman were in one party, and after a walk about
the town started to return to the ship.
When nearly there Lowe determined to return to the town and started back in company with a Cuban negro.

En route they had to pass a Cuban fort garrisoned by Spanish troops. Suddenly a sentinel sprang out of the darkness as they neared the fort and in Spanish commanded them to halt.
Lowe did not understand the command and started to hurry away. The next instant the sentinel raised his musket and fired. Lowe dropped to his knees and rolled over a corpse. The negro then started to run, when he, too, was shot and mortally wounded. The dead man and the wounded negro were carried inside the fort. At daybreak Captain Gavin of the Laurestina went to the fort and demanded the body of the man. This demand was refused and he made formal complaint to the British government. An investigation is to be made. The officers of the steamer state that when she left Cuba,
March 20, the revolution was progressing

Although the bank is the oldest in the state, it is the only one in Cincinnati that had to be carried during the panic two years ago. When the present trouble came on, the clearing house appointed a committee to investigate it.
The adverse report of the clearing house committee precipitated the trouble, and it is the general opinion that the liabilities
will greatly exceed the available assets.

A CINCINNATI BANK FAILS.
An Unusually Heavy Run Closes Up the Old Commercial.

CINCINNATI, March 28.—The Commercial bank has notified the clearing house that it cannot pay its clearings.
The Commercial is one of the oldest banks in the city. It is stated that the affairs of the bank have been looked into somewhat by other banks and it was concluded that the banks could do nothing to relieve the situation in connection with the Commercial.

Later the bank assigned to W. H.
Campbell, who was cashier of the bank.
Charles B. Foote is president of the bank and W. H. Campbell cashier.
Cashier W. H. Campbell stated that the bank had but temporarily suspended payment and would be all right in a few days. There had been an unusually heavy run on the bank and it became absolutely necessary to suspend business.
He said further that the bank held ample securities to pay out to all depositors in time.

The Commercial bank was founded in 1831 and succeeded the branch of the United States bank, when the latter went out of business, by buying the building. A number of old-time, solid financiers have been identified with the institution, among them Jacob Strader, Captain Hall, Ethan Stone, Eliot H.
Pendleton, Hugh Colville, Armstrong
and contemporaries. A number of the large estates of the city and of the Ohio valley are customers of this bank.

The bank has a paid-up capital stock of $328,000, and a surplus of $40,000.
Its average deposits were $400,000. The stock was divided into shares of $50 each, and though little trade was done in it, it was quoted on the market at 92½ asked. It has $900,000 bills receivable, but it is claimed that much of this paper is not good, that the trouble was precipitated by the bank being compelled to make $50,000 of bad paper
good.

Double Murder by a Slave.

Mt. PLEASANT, O., March 28.—A fight started in a crowd of Slav miners on the street at Dillonvale and one of their number, a giant in stature and physique, when hard pressed, picked up a club and knocked a smaller man stiff and cold. Then gathering up a large,
sharp stone, he buried it with full force in the head of another man, cleaving
it in two as far down as the jawbone, killing him instantly. As the men are all foreigners there is difficulty in obtaining their names. An inquest is being held by Sheriff Harcourt.

A WILL CONTEST ENDED.

Heirs of John A. Davis Settle Their Dis-
ferences at Butte.

BUTTE, Mont., March 28.—The great
Davis will contest, involving $7,000,000,
has perhaps ended by mutual agreement between the heirs. The John A. Davis' will was admitted to probate and a decree of distribution entered subject to revision
in the event of further contest within one year by claimants not parties to the present agreement.
The decree reads as follows:

The Sheffield heirs, or the children of Asa Davis are given one-twenty-fifth of the estate. The remainder is divided between the heirs of John A. Davis, who receive four and four-three-quarter-elevens and the contestants will receive six and one-quarter-elevens.
Andrew J. Davis retains the First National bank stock."

Shot by an American in Paris.

PARIS, March 28.—A man named Thomas O'Brien, described as an American, has been arrested here for shooting a companion. Read, also said to be an American, O'Brien shot Read six times with a revolver at the Gare du Nord (Northern Railroad) station.
Read is dying. After his arrest
O'Brien declared that Read had frequently threatened to kill him. Both men are supposed to be bookmakers.

A Chicagoan With a History Dead.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Francis Chamberlin, at one time the only white child in Chicago, is dead. His father came to Chicago in 1832. They were here at the time of the Fort Dearborn massacre and Mrs. Chamberlin was saved from death by the noted Indian Chief Black Partridge. The incident has been perpetuated in bronze on the spot, the Lake Front and Eighteenth street.

Embezzlement Charged Against Him.

CHICAGO, March 28.—W. Irving Carpenter,
an assistant cashier of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad
at the Englewood station, has been arrested on a charge of embezzlement.
The warrant was sworn out Sept. 8
of last year, by J. Slater, traveling auditor of the railroad, and charged Carpenter
with having appropriated to his own use over $1,500 of the company's money.

Sir Charles Tupper Resigns.

OTTAWA, March 28.—That the resignation of Sir Charles H. Tupper from the cabinet has been handed in can hardly be doubted. The Citizen, the government organ, says so very bluntly.

It is said that a reason for quitting the cabinet is that he will not be allowed to supplant Foster in leadership of the house of commons, an ambition which he has long held.

Guilty of First Degree Murder.

ST. LOUIS, March 28.—In the criminal court the jury has returned a verdict, finding guilty of murder in the first degree, Geo. Thompson (colored), who poisoned Joseph Cunningham, the sexton of St. Peter's Episcopal church, on Sept.
29, 1894. Cunningham had succeeded Thompson as sexton, thereby causing his displeasure. Thompson's attorney announced that he would file a motion for a new trial.

WHEN the farmers of America learn that the exports of bread stuffs decreased in value to the amount of $45,000,000 during the seven months ending the first of the year, they will realize why there is no demand for wheat, and will not be long in discovering cause for the downward tendency of the price.

A Sentinel at a Spanish Fort in Cuba Shoots a Seaman Named Lowe—A Cuban Negro With Him Mortally Wounded. Ambassador Pauncefote Talks.

BALTIMORE, March 28.—At 2 o'clock on the morning of March 19 Spanish sentries murderously shot and killed a seaman of the British steamship Laurestina and badly wounded a Cuban negro at St. Jago, Cuba. The British government is investigating the matter and complications between Great Britain and Spain may result. The Laurestina has arrived at this port from St. Jago and her officers denounce the shooting as a murder. They stated to your representative that the seaman was John Lowe, aged 35 years, a resident of Leeds, England, who had shipped at Cardiff, Wales, on the night of March 18. The crew went ashore for a stroll and walked up from where the vessel was lying to the town of St. Jago, a short distance away. The boat swain, Lowe and another seaman were in one party, and after a walk about the town started to return to the ship. An investigation is to be made. The officers of the steamer state that when she left Cuba, March 20, the revolution was progressing inside the fort.

A Washington special says: Ambassador Pauncefote has received no news as to the killing of Boatswain Lowe of the Laurestina, by the Spanish soldiers at St. Jago, Cuba. After reading the account of the matter, given by the officers of the ship, he said: "This is evidently a very outrageous case, and will, of course, be promptly investigated. It is not a matter that would come to this office at all, however, the complaint being made directly to England. No doubt the captain of the ship will make a deposition, as to the facts before the British consul. Captain Seagrove, at Baltimore, and the latter will forward it to England. I am glad to have my attention called to it, as I can make certain that all the evidence is taken."

Thompson (colored), who poisoned Joseph Cunningham, the sexton of St. Peter's Episcopal church, on Sept. 29, 1894. Cunningham had succeeded Thompson as sexton, thereby causing his displeasure. Thompson's attorney announced that he would file a motion for a new trial.

A CINCINNATI BANK FAILS.
Unusually Heavy Run Closes Up the Old Commercial.

CINCINNATI, March 28.—The Commercial bank has notified the clearing house that it cannot pay its clearings. The Commercial is one of the oldest banks in the city. It is stated that the affairs of the bank have been looked into somewhat by other banks and it was concluded that the banks could do nothing to relieve the situation in connection with the Commercial.

Later the bank assigned to W. H. Campbell, who was cashier of the bank. Charles B. Foote is president of the bank and W. H. Campbell cashier. Cashier W. H. Campbell stated that the bank had but temporarily suspended payment and would be all right in a few days. There had been an unusually heavy run on the bank and it became absolutely necessary to suspend business. He said further that the bank held ample securities to pay out to all depositors in time.

The Commercial bank was founded in 1831 and succeeded the branch of the United States bank, when the latter went out of business, by buying the building. A number of old-time solid financiers have been identified with the institution, among them Jacob Strader, Captain Hall, Ethan Stone, Elliott H. Pendleton, Hugh Colville, Armstrong and contemporaries. A number of the large estates of the city and of the Ohio valley are customers of this bank.

The bank has a paid-up capital stock of $328,000, and a surplus of $40,000. Its average deposits were $400,000. The stock was divided into shares of $50 each, and though little trading was done in it, it was quoted on the market at 92½ asked. It has $900,000 bills receivable, but it is claimed that much of this paper is not good, that the trouble was precipitated by the bank being compelled to make $50,000 of bad paper.

The Commercial bank is the oldest in the state, it is the only one in Cincinnati that had to be carried during the panic two years ago. When the present trouble came on, the clearing house appointed a committee to investigate it. The adverse report of the clearing house committee precipitated the trouble, and it is the general opinion that the liabilities will greatly exceed the available assets.

MANITOBA'S DEFIANT.

They Will Not Obey the Order From Quebec.

A STRONG REPLY IS MADE.

The Government Organ of Manitoba Prints An Editorial Breathing Defiance. A Fierce Attack Made On the Catholic Church—Question Comes Up Tonight.

WINNIPEG, March 28.—The remedial order on separate schools does not come into the legislature until tonight, but it is nevertheless the one topic of the day here. Both the government and opposition are holding frequent caucus meetings, and what the outcome will be is difficult to predict. One thing is certain, viz.: that the Manitoba government will resent interference by Ottawa on educational matters. There is every indication that the policy of the opposition in the legislature will be to advocate some modifications to the school law. In other words, some sort of compromise. The opposition of Premier Greenway and the government is clearly outlined. The newspaper organ of the government has this official statement under the heading, "Manitoba's Answer."

"The remedial order has been read in the legislature. We are asked to restore the school system that was in operation previous to 1890. Let Quebec and Ottawa rest assured that the restoration will never be made."

A fierce attack on the Catholic church then follows, concluding with the following: "How can any Romanist, believing that Protestant schools are teaching errors, conscientiously support them, and how can any Protestant, believing that the religious teachings of the Roman Catholic church are wrong, agree that a portion of his taxes should be devoted toward the support of such teaching? No, any one who has the least sense of justice, any one who is patriotic in the slightest degree, any one who believes that all citizens are equal in the sight of the law, and what is good enough for one is good enough for all, must stand by the act of 1890. And this is our answer to Quebec: We shall not allow the state to support religions; we shall not allow the church to control the state; we shall not return to the civilization of the dark ages; we shall not recognize Rome as better, or in any way, different from others. We shall hold to the principle of equal rights for all; that principle shall be dearer than that federation itself."

THE GROWTH OF TINPLATE.

John Jarrett Shows It's Development In the United States.

BALTIMORE, March 28.—The Manufacturers' Record of this week will publish a compilation by John Jarrett, secretary of the Tinplate Manufacturers' Association of the United States, showing the growth of tinplate in this country. Mr. Jarrett's report states that there are now in this country, completed and in course of construction, 34 tinplate works. The capacity of these works will exceed an annual production of 260,000 tons of finished product and will furnish employment to 11,000 to 12,000 hands. The capital invested is about $8,500,000, and the wages paid will be about $7,000,000 a year.

These figures pertain only to the manipulation of reducing the billet in some cases, but the bar in most cases, to finished product, and do not include the amount of labor from the ore to the billet and bar, which is very extensive. The mills already fully completed have a capacity of over 100,000 tons of finished product, and employ 7,000 to 8,000 hands, with an investment of $5,500,000.

The Diamondcutters' Case.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Franz E. Van Reeth, the diamondcutter who came with 12 others of his craft last week on the steamer Westerland and upon whose affidavit they were all barred as contractors, had a rehearing before the board of special inquiry at Ellis island. The board sustained the former decision, and all were again ordered deported. Van Reeth, who on his recent examination claimed to be a wealthy speculator intending to start a diamondcutting establishment in Cincinnati, appealed the case to Secretary Carlisle. He was paroled in the custody of the Belgian consul pending the secretary's final decision.

A Bank Robbed of $1,300.

AUBURN, Ills., March 28.—When the attachés of the Auburn State bank opened their doors they discovered that the bank had been robbed during the night. Entrance had been effected through a back window. Three holes in the outer door of the vault had been drilled before the burglars found a suitable place to insert the explosives and in a short time they were inside the first vault. The second safe was forced by inserting powder with a blowpipe, and the money was exposed. The cash on hand was not as large in amount as usual, and only $1,300 was secured.

McKinley's Attitude on Silver.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—As there has been of late a good deal of comment and speculation concerning the position of Governor McKinley on the silver question, it is stated authoritatively here that Governor McKinley's attitude is accurately expressed by the latest pronouncement of the Republican party, in its silver plank in the platform adopted in Minneapolis June 10, 1892.

As the right of property trial in the Schneider-Smith case was continued by Squire Travis for 30 days and there was no other way of keeping the litigation before the public another action was begun yesterday, which promises to prove interesting. Edward Schneider entered suit in Squire Manley's court to recover 25 kgs of nails from Burford Brothers. The nails were sold to the pottery firm by Smith, and Schneider claiming that Smith had no right to dispose of any of the property from the wrecked barrels, had a writ of replevin issued. Constable Lyon served the writ but did not seize the nails as Burford Brothers gave bond in the sum of $50, for the return of the stuff in case Schneider was victorious in the action. The case will be heard at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning next.

THE BOXES GO.

H. Hoffman Finds the Legal Water Too Hot and Moves His Sign.

Deputy Marshal Supplee's victory in the Hoffman case, which was gaining considerable notoriety as a violation of the sidewalk ordinance, is complete.

Henry Hoffman evidently arrived at the conclusion that somebody would get weak kneed and desert him when his case came to trial or else he grew uneasy in that region himself and decided to get out of legal water which had reached a boiling point. He assured the authorities that he really meant to obey the law and the authorities listened patiently as they took a few grains of official salt, but told Henry they would overlook his little mistake. Accordingly Hoffman's box sign disappeared from view about 6 o'clock last night. Other merchants took in signs and boxes in the Diamond last night and the improvement in the appearance of the sidewalk was so marked as to cause general comment from those who enjoyed the earlier part of the evening.

Deputy Supplee will insist that the law be complied with, and states that so far there is little or no opposition. He thinks there would never have been any necessity for prosecution in the Hoffman case had not Hoffman listened to other parties.

Fortunately the fire failed to spread.

The capital invested is about $8,500,000, and the wages paid will be about $7,000,000 a year.

These figures pertain only to the manipulation of reducing the billet in some cases, but the bar in most cases, to finished product, and do not include the amount of labor from the ore to the billet and bar, which is very extensive. The mills already fully completed have a capacity of over 100,000 tons of finished product, and employ 7,000 to 8,000 hands, with an investment of $5,500,000.

The Diamondcutters' Case.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Franz E. Van Reeth, the diamondcutter who came with 12 others of his craft last week on the steamer Westerland and upon whose affidavit they were all barred as contract laborers, had a rehearing before the board of special inquiry at Ellis Island. The board sustained the former decision, and all were again ordered deported. Van Reeth, who on his recent examination claimed to be a wealthy speculator intending to start a diamondcutting establishment in Cincinnati, appealed the case to Secretary Carlisle. He was paroled in the custody of the Belgian consul pending the secretary's final decision.

A Bank Robbed of $1,300.

AUBURN, Ills., March 28.—When the attacks of the Auburn State bank opened their doors they discovered that the bank had been robbed during the night. Entrance had been effected through a back window. Three holes in the outer door of the vault had been drilled before the burglars found a suitable place to insert the explosives and in a short time they were inside the first vault. The second safe was forced by inserting powder with a blowpipe, and the money was exposed. The cash on hand was not as large in amount as usual, and only $1,200 was secured.

McKinley's Attitude on Silver.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—As there has been of late a good deal of comment and speculation concerning the position of Governor McKinley on the silver question, it is stated authoritatively here that Governor McKinley's attitude is accurately expressed by the latest pronouncement of the Republican party, in its silver plank in the platform adopted in Minneapolis June 10, 1892.

Moonshiners Get Revenge.

WINSTON, N. C., March 28.—In the Roaring river neighborhood of Wilkes county a crowd of moonshiners went to the house of a farmer and shot him through the thigh. The crowd then went to the home of the farmer's son and tore it down completely. They also visited and burned an unoccupied house belonging to another son. The father and two sons were witnesses in a case against a moonshiner named Wilkes.

Inquest Over Footballist Bahen.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The coroner of the District of Columbia held an inquest over George D. Bahen, the Georgetown university football player, who died from injuries received in the Thanksgiving day game with the Columbia Athletic club. The jury's verdict was that Bahen came to his death from foul play, for which it was unable to fix the responsibility. The testimony was that the playing was most brutal.

To Be Built In Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, March 28.—The contract for the construction of three steel twin-screw seagoing torpedo boats for the United States navy will probably be awarded in the next few days to the Columbian Ironworks and Dry Dock company of Baltimore by Secretary Herbert. The board of chiefs has reported favorably on the Columbian Ironworks' bid.

Declares the Taylors Guilty.

CARROLLTON, Mo., March 28.—Ten-year-old Nellie Meeks, the only survivor of the Meeks family of five, who were murdered on May 10 last year, is in town to testify in the trial of William P. and George Taylor. She positively declares that the Taylors committed the crime.

He Was Tired of Life.

THE BOXES GO.

H. Hoffman Finds the Legal Water Too Hot and Moves His Sign.

BALTIMORE, March 28.—The Manufacturers' Record of this week will publish a compilation by John Jarrett, secretary of the Tinplate Manufacturers' Association of the United States, showing the growth of tinplate in this country.

Mr. Jarrett's report states that there are now in this country, completed and in course of construction, 34 tinplate works. The capacity of these works will exceed an annual production of 260,000 tons of finished product and will furnish employment to 11,000 to 12,000 hands. The capital invested is about $8,500,000, and the wages paid will be about $7,000,000 a year.

These figures pertain only to the manipulation of reducing the billet in some cases, but the bar in most cases, to finished product, and do not include the amount of labor from the ore to the billet and bar, which is very extensive.

RICH MUSIC.

An East Liverpool Lady Delighted With Robin Red Breast.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—Talk about your service of song and delicious strains of richest melody. Why, my dear sir, we have the grandest service of song imaginable at our very doors, furnished us without money and without price—a service of song which thrills with exquisite delight in every heart attuned to music in its truest and purest sense. I have reference to the music emanating from the throat of our pet home bird, beloved Robin Red Breast. At my home in the suburbs of East Liverpool I have been blessed for the past few mornings with a regular concert from the throats of these God-taught singers, and can truly say that I never enjoyed music as I did that proclaimed by my choir of birds. Oh, ye lazy bones; ye who do not rise early in the morn; ye who have never heard the melody so freely given by Robin Red Breast; ye who are truly lovers of genuine music and melody, take the very first opportunity given you and listen to the music which awakens the morn and makes glad and happy and content the spirit and life of many of the busy workers of this busy world.

MUSIC LOVERS.

Who Owns the Nails?

As the right of property trial in the Schneider-Smith case was continued by Squire Travis for 30 days and there was no other way of keeping the litigation before the public, another action was begun yesterday, which promises to prove interesting. Edward Schneider entered suit in Squire Manley's court to recover 25 kegs of nails from Burford Brothers. The nails were sold to the pottery firm by Smith, and Schneider claiming that Smith had no right to dispose of any of the property from the wrecked barges, had a writ of replevin issued.

Constable Lyon served the writ but did not seize the nails as Burford Brothers gave bond in the sum of $50, for the return of the stuff in case Schneider was victorious in the action.

Schneider was victorious in the action. The case will be heard at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning next.

The Trolley System.

The "Trolley System" accompanied with all its fun producing qualities will be at the Grand on Saturday evening. The return engagement of the "Trolley System" will undoubtedly fill the opera house as the people of West Virginia are hoping that the structure will be built. They had an insight to the advantages of a bridge when the ice covered the river, and can now see the necessity.

Attorney J. E. McDonald looks wise when the bridge is mentioned these days, and then remarks that "there is publication." Other members of the company are equally successful in keeping their own counsel and the outside world is given nothing.

Meantime the people of West Virginia are hoping that the structure will be built. They had an insight to the advantages of a bridge when the ice covered the river, and can now see the necessity.

Those who desire to foretell the weather for next month may obtain some valued pointers from the fact that observations for 12 years show that the normal temperature of April was 50 degrees. The warmest April was in 1886 when the average was 53 degrees, and the coldest was in 1884 with five degrees less. The highest temperature during any April was the 30th last year when the mercury reached 97 degrees, and the coldest was April 19, 1887, with a record of ten degrees. The average of days shows that 10 were cloudless, 10 cloudy and 10 partially cloudy.

A workman who is employed by the street department handled the handsome team recently purchased as if they were a pair of plugs unworthy the consideration of a driver. He was shoveling dirt in the wagon, and evidently wanted the team to move on, for he raised his shovel, and when the horses shied in expectation of the attack, caught the bridle rein and gave it several vicious jerks. Again the shovel was raised, and again the horses moved away in fear. Then the person began to realize that he was driving horses with intelligence. A man of that disposition should not be employed by the city.

Street Railway Passengers Transferred.

THREE ACCIDENTS LAST NIGHT

The Trolley Wire Was Down From the Pumping Station to the Power House, a Car Left the Rail at Walker, and Another Was Disabled a Little Farther Down the Road.

There were three points on the street railway last night where passengers were transferred, and many were the imprecations breathed against the company that would not pay out its profits for repairs.

As the car commanded by Motorman Johnson was passing the pumping station the trolley wire broke from its fastenings and fell. In a minute the car was filled with a bluish flame, and the three passengers knew that something had happened. Will Kent was standing on the metal plate at the doorway, and felt the shock severely. George Arnold and Bert Chambers, the other passengers, were informed that electricity was flying around by the tingling in their frames, but the motorman was not hurt. It required some time to repair the break, as the wire was down to the power house. Passengers were transferred through the mud, and there was no end of unfavorable comment.

Motorman Mike Fisher was on what the street railway people call the "jerk water" run last night when his car left the track at Walker. It could not be put on in a minute, and the passengers were walked around the obstruction. The accident was not a serious one, and happened a short time before the accident at the power house. Repairs were made and cars were moving as soon as possible.

The third accident of the evening occurred at Lythe, and again passengers were compelled to transfer if they had any desire to reach their destination. If the company are susceptible to adverse criticism, there can be little doubt that the officials went to their downy beds in Cleveland with ears tingling as they never tingled before. As late as 11 o'clock last night cars were passing over the line, with vestibules bringing up the rear.

PHYSICAL STRENGTH.
cheerful spirits and the ability to fully enjoy life, come only with a healthy body and mind. The young man who suffers from nervous debility, impaired memory, low spirits, irritable temper, and the thousand and one derangements of mind and body that result from unnatural, pernicious habits usually contracted in youth, through ignorance, is thereby incapacitated to thoroughly enjoy life. He feels tired, spiritless, and drowsy; his sleep is disturbed and does not refresh him as it should; the will power is weakened, morbid fears haunt him and may result in confirmed hypochondria, or melancholia and, finally, in softening of the brain, epilepsy, ("fits"), paralysis, locomotor ataxia and even in dread insanity.

To reach, re-claim and restore such unfortunate to health and happiness, is the aim of the publishers of a book of 136 pages, written in plain but chaste language, on the nature, symptoms and curability, by home-treatment, of such diseases. This book will be sent sealed, in plain envelope, on receipt of this notice with ten cents in stamps, for postage. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

For more than a quarter of a century physicians connected with this widely celebrated institution have made the treatment of the diseases above hinted at their specialty. Thousands have consulted them by letter and received advice and medicines which have resulted in permanent cures.

Sufferers from premature old age, or loss of power, will find much of interest in the book above mentioned.

Resolved, That we realize in her death the Temple has lost a good friend and each sister a faithful companion.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family and command them to Our Heavenly Father above who alone can assuage our griefs at such a time.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed upon the minutes of our Temple and a copy be forwarded to the bereaved family.
